Jennifer Rodriguez-Aiello, MD, FACS, Board-Certified Surgeon

Education and Training

- Surgical Critical Care Fellowship, Inova Fairfax Hospital, VA
- General Surgical Residency, Thomas Jefferson Hospital, Philadelphia, PA
- Medical Degree, UCC (Universidad Central del Caribe) in Bayamon, Puerto Rico
- Undergraduate degree, Yale University, CT
- Board-certified, General Surgery
- Board-certified, Trauma Critical Care
- Fellow of the American College of Surgeons

As a board-certified general surgeon, Dr. Rodriguez-Aiello performs a broad range of procedures specializing in gallbladders, hernias, bowel surgery, robotic surgery and trauma.

Dr. Rodriguez-Aiello has been practicing surgery since 2007. She joined Wayne Memorial after working at the Inova Hospital System where she was the system quality officer for acute care surgery and an attending physician in trauma/surgical critical care/acute care surgery.

While Dr. Rodriguez-Aiello has worked in many settings, including a Level I Trauma Center outside Washington, D.C. for over 10 years, she has a passion for rural medicine and is committed to providing excellent care for underserved communities.